Meanderings

By PIERRE SALINGER

This column was to have been the big blast this week. It was to have torn down, step by step, Mr. Cassina's letter, printed here last week, but as the time approached to write it, I started to do a little thinking.

Obviously, if I write another column denouncing the Music Federation, there will have to be another answer forthcoming, and as you can easily see, this could go on forever, getting us nowhere. Besides, the Music Federation isn't the only organization that merits campus attention for past misdeeds.

The article to end all articles on the Music Federation will not be written. I do not intend this article to appease the members of the Music Federation who felt hurt after the first article appeared. By having both sides of the question aired in the Gater, I think that more good has been done than if we had tried to tear down the organization without letting them have their say.

STUDENT CARDS

Last week, the Gater's learned Editor, Mr. Paul Scholten, expressed his views on the student body card situation on the Editorial page. Herein I would like to add my ten cents worth—or, to put it better, my six dollars worth.

The standard argument against buying a student body card is, "What do I get for my money?" The students obviously don't seem to know where their money is going. It is no exaggeration to say that every big campus organization is dependent upon the student body card for its activities. How would you like to go to a school where there were no athletic teams; where there was no health fund; where there was no campus newspaper; where there was no big music organization like the Music Fed.; where there was organization for the art students, or where you had no associated student body

Red Cross War Fund and Student Service Fund Ask State Help

On next Wednesday, March 31, during the 10 o'clock and 1 o'clock classes, State's patriotism and humanitarianism will be put to the test as never before in State's history. For, during those class hours, student "flying squads" will canvass the members of each class on the campus (and instructors, too) for donations both to the Red Cross War Fund and to the World Student Service Fund.

Here is State's chance to prove that we are wholeheartedly behind the war effort, and at the same time are thinking of less fortunate college students in foreign lands. Twin contributions will be asked of each student, and it is hoped that everyone will contribute to the utmost of his or her ability. As little as a penny, as much as several dollars, is expected of each one of use—but no one can argue that he cannot spare even a cent for each of these worthy funds. The committee hopes, however, that each student will find it possible to give at least a dime, if not more, to each contribution.

Delta Sigma Sponsors Intramural Debates

"Resolved, That India Shall Have Immediate Independence," will be the topic to be discussed by the students to take part in the intramural debates to start next week. The debates are sponsored by Delta Sigma, national honorary debating society, and will be managed by Pierre Salinger, debate manager. The contest is open to all State College students who would like to

Constitution Examination To Be Given April 20

To complete the constitution requirement of the state, a United States Constitution examination will be given April 20 in Room 219, College hall, according to Miss Florence Vance, Registrar. This exam., which is open only to teachers in the service and to transfer students, will enable these people to secure their teaching credential.

All eligible students are required to get a pass from the Registrar's office before taking this exam.

Frederic Burk

Research Associate Carries Out Novel Education Project

Miss Florence E. Haviland, research associate from the Rosenberg foundation, is carrying on many interesting projects at Frederic Burk.

The teachers and students have had unusual opportunities to go on excursions made possible through the efforts of Miss Haviland. Next week a group of children will visit the Bethlehem Steel Corporation. Dr. Elene Parmely, Dr. Sherman Brown and Mrs. Grace Leathurby are planning to visit Marinship next week. They will arrange for an excursion for the students at a later date. The A. W. V. S. will furnish the transportation for the event.

The students learn definite ways of society, when they are able to go on these expeditions. Miss Haviland is compiling stories of these excursions and their evaluation. They will be put into folders and mimeographed. Later they will be distributed to teachers in order to show how democracy operates by community resources.

★ ART POSTERS

A featured display of murals which were done by the students of Miss Evelyn S. Mayer's Art 30 class of last semester are being shown in Window 50 of the Emporium this week.

These murals were on display on the walls of College hall last week. Those students who have their work displayed are: Esther McCrary, Petranella Mortigia, Pat Gillick, Gay Florez, Beverly Forney and Geraldine Crecci.

A professor's definition of the Honor System is, "The instructor has the honor; the student has the system."

War Bonds

Sigma Alpha Eta Presents Variety Show on April 1

Taking advantage of the dismissal of classes at 1 o'clock next Thursday, Sigma Alpha Eta will present a professional variety show as its part in the student body bond drive. The show, to be held in Frederic Burk auditorium and scheduled for an hour's duration, will feature campus acts as well as talent never before seen at State.

Under the direction of Leighton Edelman, the program is intended to top even the popular shows put on for the fraternity by Gordon Minor in past years.

Proceeds from the affair will go toward the purchase of the $1000 war bond which the student body executive board is sponsoring. The money for the bond will be donated by the various clubs from funds they earn this semester.

The money earned on the bond will be invested in the Student Union building at the new campus at Lake Merced, according to specific plans of the executive board.

Donations toward buying the bond have been prorated among the various campus organizations, and Sigma Alpha Eta will give the funds which are usually directed into its scholarships to the bond.

The show will start promptly at 1:05 next Thursday. Since the date is April 1, a special April Fool's theme has been arranged with several surprises in store for those who attend. Tickets may be obtained while they last from any Sigma Alpha Eta man for 25 cents.

Art Fed to Give April Fool Folk Dance on Friday

You'll be the "fool" if you miss the Art Federation folk dance to be given on April Fool's day in the auditorium of Frederic Burk next Friday at 8 p. m.

"It isn't necessary that you know how to do these simple folk dances in order to attend," said Petranella Mortigia, president of the Art Federation. "All the steps will be demonstrated," she continued.

Do-nuts and punch will be served during the evening, according to Pat Gillick, chairman of the dance committee.

Those on the committee include: Stella Reese, Ruth Hayburn, Beverly Brillhart, Esther McCrary, Elizabeth Jensen and Dorothy Fopiano.

MISS MAYER GAVE LECTURE TUESDAY

"Modern art is like a symphony—the more you hear it, the more you understand and appreciate it," said Miss Evelyn S. Mayer, instructor of art, during her lecture Tuesday, March 23, in College hall.

"Artists I have Known" was the subject of her talk, which was illustrated by the use of colored slides. The lecture was arranged and presented by the Art Federation under the chairmanship of Frances Sanfilippo.

Statewide Folk Dance Festival At State Tomorrow Night in Gym

To promote folk dancing, a March Festival presented by the Folk Dance Federation of California, will be held in the Women's gym, Saturday evening, March 28. The festival which will be sponsored at San Francisco State by the W. A. A. and the International Relations club, will be open to the public.

Honor Group

Alpha Phi Gamma Pledges Seven For Journalism Work

Serving as an award to outstanding journalists at State, Alpha Phi Gamma announced today the pledging of seven Gater staff members. The seven chosen for future membership in the national honorary fraternity are Pierre Salinger and Betty Clock, as full pledges, and Cecilia Thein, Frank Gillio, Earl Anderson, George Caulfield and Adele Menjou as junior members.

In addition, the groundwork is being laid for the group's big event, the Chickens' Ball, by the members, led by Paul Scholten. Other officers are June Gyselbrecht, vice-president; Virginia Howard, secretary; DeCalvus Simonsen, treasurer; and Dick Wallace, pledge captain.

The fraternity, which sponsors the Chickens' Ball each fall, also publishes the Student Handbook each semester.

Meanwhile, the active members of Alpha Phi Gamma are drawing up plans for the semi-annual scholarship, and publication of the student handbook. The handbook, which contains vital information for the student body, is published each year by the fraternity, and is given to the incoming Staters when they enter college in the fall.

The pledges, chosen for their outstanding work in State journalism, will be put through a rigorous initiation on the campus during the next few weeks, with the disciplinary paddle looming close at all times.

U. C. Art Group Invites Staters To Art Exhibit

Delta Epsilon, National Art Honor Society, at the University of California, welcomes members of our art classes to their semi-annual art exhibit. The paintings of various members of Delta Epsilon are on display in the University Art Gallery.

Each semester the best paintings of the members are submitted in competition for this exhibition. This year the prize winning painting, a water color, was submitted by Nancy Larson.

Non-competitive paintings by instructors and an off-campus guest were also on display.

The Delta Epsilon exhibit will terminate April 11. The gallery is open from 12 noon to 2 p. m. daily, and from 3 to 5 p. m. on Sundays.

Hawaii's sugar industry is one of the world's outstanding examples of co-operative agriculture.

Over 20 statewide organizations will be represented, some of these being: Lodi Folk Dancers; Folk dancers from San Jose State, University of California, San Francisco State, Alpine Hiking club, Palo Alto Dancers, the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A.

DANCING OF ALL NATIONS

Exhibitions on foreign dances will be presented by the Alpine Hiking club and the W. A. A. dance group. The program will feature dancing of all nations and will be done in the authentic costumes of foreign countries.

The festival, which will begin at 8:00, will be preceded by a business meeting at 7:30, at which each group will have a representative.

FESTIVALS PLANNED

The Folk Dance Federation of California was organized last June by Henry Glass, a teacher at Union High school in Lodi. Festivals are planned every month by a council made up of representatives from each organization.

The Rock

Inmates of 'Rock' Give Record Dance Tonight at Seven

Free! A Radio dance, entertainment and refreshments, tonight at 7 p. m. at the Rock.

"There will be a variety of talent tonight at the open house," according to Jack Laycox, president of the renowned dorm of State College.

Making their debut tonight will be the "Rock Quartet," which will fill the evening with melodious canter. Members of this group who will break out in song are: Walt Kueger, John Nicholi, Jack Laycox and Robert Baker.

The Rock is located on the corners of Mariposa and Utah streets. Come on, Staters, let's go "all out" on this affair and support the fellows of the Rock by being at their open house tonight for an evening of dancing and fun.

Students to Take Test April 2 For Navy V12

Every qualified male student, excepting V-1, V-5, V-7, and Army and Marine Corps Reserves, may take advantage of the opportunity of being selected for specialized training or officer training in the Army and Navy, according to Dean P. F. Valentine, armed services representative.

This selection will be made following tests to be given in this college on Friday, April 2, 1943, between 9 and 11 a. m. Tests for Navy appointment will be open to all men who have reached their 17th birthday, but not their 20th, by July 1, 1943.

Tests for Army appointment will be open to all who have reached their 17th but not their 22nd birthday by July 1, 1943. Qualifications include: A male citizen of the United States; morally and physically qualified; must be unmarried; and must have potential officer qualifications.

SPECIALIZED TRAINING
Students in the V-1 classification who are in, or who have completed the final term of their sophomore year in March, 1943, will be given qualifying examinations to determine whether these students will be selected for training in the V-12 program. This program involves assignment to some selected college for specialized training. Such assignments for those taking examinations April 1 will go into effect July 1.

Those V-7 students having one term or less to complete for a degree may remain on inactive duty in their present college.

ACTIVE DUTY STATUS
College students now enlisted in the Marine Corps Reserve, other than the current graduating class, will also be included in the new Navy College training program. It was announced today.

These students will be called to

Last State Enlisted Reserve Corp Men Leave Sunday

With Sunday nearing, State's 12 departing E. R. C. students, the last of that reserve to be called, finished their school affairs and prepared themselves for the Army life which they are about to enter.

Most of them spent their week attending brush-up classes at S. F. J. C., preparatory to taking the Army aptitude tests which will be given when they arrive at the Presidio of Monterey Sunday afternoon.

The twelve Staters leaving Sunday morning are David Freed, who will be in charge of the detachment; Romolo Braschi, John Gianopoulos, Erwin Gimov, Alfred Giuffre, Richard Lym, Jack Merwin, Millard Morgenstern, Donald Moss, Lowell Noonan, Richard Zink and George Ryan. E. R. C. students from the University of California have already left, arriving at the Presidio of Monterey induction center on Wednesday morning.

The Monterey special will pull out from the Third and Townsend street depot at the bright and early hour of 8:30 on Sunday morning.

Most of the men have already withdrawn from the college and quit going to classes.

A few of the men in this list have remained in class in an effort to graduate before they go, or to get partial units for having completed a part of the course.

Various campus organizations have given parties for their departing members, including the International Relations Club party for Millard Morgenstern and the Rock party for Jack Merwin.

Of the twelve departing men, five of them were students in the Music Department, with the others scattered throughout other departments.

With these men gone, the only remaining male students on the campus will be Naval Reservists, V-1, V-5 and V-7, Marine Corps Reservists, students deferred by the Army because of essential studies, such as pre-med and engineering, and students not yet enlisted in any branch of the service.

Sign Up Now, Buddy!

Earlier in the week we were approached by an avid student who wanted our signature on the petition she was circulating. Unfortunately, we have a bad habit of reading what we sign, and discovered that the petition favored the lowering of the age limit now placed upon voters in this state.

The purely mechanical features of this bill pending in the legislature, are well covered on the front page of this week's Gater, but the petition itself presents an interesting problem. We wonder just how many of the students who signed it, and those who didn't, gave any thought to what the 18-year-old vote stood for. How can anyone decide in the fraction of a minute, the aspects of this or any similar petition and then answer with a flat, unswerving "Yes", or "No."

Too many times such issues depend only upon the person collecting the signatures and the emotions he plays upon. It is our frank opinion that we, personally, could obtain the signatures of fully 75 per cent of the student body as in favor of any motion we chose to pick up to the nomination of the notorious Mr. Hitler as president of these United States.

The whole point is, how much good does it do to poll the student opinion here at State. Elsewhere in this issue is a blank to be filled in by the students and purporting to give their opinions of the 18-year vote. Probably about 25 students will hand these back and of those, probably about ten will weigh over the ideas that, "if one is old enough to fight he is old enough to vote" or the awareness of a student who has just completed high school civics. As things stand, we doubt the ability of the American to sensibly vote at 21 or any other age, when, to all appearances, today's elections are decided by the same old politics as always and not by any awareness of the democratic ideals.

Last Monday the Executive Board passed a resolution stating that the students of San Francisco State College were unanimously in favor of lowering the voting age to 18, and sent a copy of this resolution to the State legislature. At the time only ten members of the Board were present and the motion was passed by only six of these members.

In passing we can only state that it seems impossible for six students, any six, no matter what they represent, to decide in five minutes what each and every one of the better than a thousand Staters think on such an action as this.

All in all, it's just an interesting commentary on the value of polls and declarations of student desires at this alleged institution of higher learning.

We're Up On the Bond Wagon Now!

State at last seems to be getting off the dime to a tardy but admirable effort to aid in the war effort. Better than a year late, this effort, if properly supported by the students, should make up for any laxity we have shown since the war began.

While other colleges got off to a good start on December 8, 1941, State lagged behind with a few minor War Stamp sales and didn't seem to care much about the success of even these. Now, under a new and more active administration, the Executive Board has set in motion the machinery for the purchase of a thousand dollar War Bond, whose proceeds will go toward the building and maintaining of a Student Union building on the new campus when the bond matures.

In spite of these grandiose plans, however, the Bond drive cannot succeed unless it has the support of the student body at large, the man in Music Alley, the Upper Field railbird, the lounge on the lawn.

In the next couple of months, you will be asked to attend and participate in a number of activities planned to finance the Bond purchase. It is up to you to support this drive and see it carried to a successful conclusion.

Step Aside

By STAN LERCHE

"PLEASE pass to the front when leaving the car!"

Those of us who are faced with the problem of transportation to and from school, find commuting quite an art. To be able to shove a fellow mortal out of the way and beat him to a seat, is quite a task.

It is advised that you carry plenty of books and parcels. This allows your elbows to protrude beyond their natural bend, and enables them to jab the masses away from your sides. Having nothing to worry about from the sides of you, you must now concentrate on the mass of human anatomy blocking your forward progress.

PROBLEM SIMPLE

To move ahead, you must remove the people who stand in your way. This, of course, brings about a process of elimination.

If you have some sharp gadget, such as a First Aid pin, a good jab with the implement will often suffice. Should this fall short of enabling you to attain success, tap the person on the shoulder with a good hard rap and ask him the time. When he looks at his watch, he will forget himself and relax, thus enabling you to merely push him out of the way.

REACHING THE GOAL

You should by now be near the front of the line. Having fought your way this far, getting on the train should not present too much difficulty.

In conclusion, it should be mentioned that the person behind you will use the same methods just described, and you will no doubt stand up anyway.

To the Editor

Dear Editor:

Why in the name of common sense isn't something done about the condition of the drinking fountains in this college?

When I was small, I was taught that a drinking fountain was a place to get a drink (of water). But when I came to San Francisco State I found that that previous impression was a lot of hooey. The drinking fountains were here, alright, but the water was not. When I wanted some water I almost had to have some kind of a vacuum machine to get the water out of the pipe.

In College hall in front of the Registrar's office, there is a drinking fountain. Upstairs in the middle of the hall there is a small stream emerging from the tap, which incidentally is smeared with lipstick. Around the corner in College hall you can get almost a half glass full. This water is luke warm.

In Anderson hall near Dr. Edna Barney's office is water, but not much. Outside of A125 is a swell looking fountain; you guessed it again, no water. Upstairs in Anderson outside of A210 is water. You can get a good drink from this one if you try.

When a person does find a fountain which contains water he is amazed to find that he not only has secured a drink of water, but either a piece of, or the flavor of, chewing gum. If there is no gum in the fountain there are usually a few wrappers from a creamicle or something.

Why doesn't someone turn on the water around here so we can have some. Water isn't that scarce, is it? And why don't the students deposit their gum and wrappers where they belong—in the waste baskets!

Sincerely,

PAT JONES.

STUFF 'N PEOPLE...

This columnist has been crusading through the medium of the newspaper to get the remaining students at State to write to the servicemen. If you do not have a personal friend in the service that you would like to write to, see me and I will provide you with the address of a service man to whom you may write. But keep those letters coming, they mean a lot to the fellows far from home... come on, kids, and write!

The army has broken up many a friendship, but one of long standing will be split when Vince Amendola, of the far famed Foil and Mace club, answers his call. Nardi Mallerino will be left to carry on the ancient organization.

ON THE HOME FRONT...

Richard George, now in the Air corps at Fresno, California, reports that Al Vladimiroff is also stationed there.

When last heard from, Dan Atkinson was stationed at Camp Roberts, waiting for his sailing orders to places unknown.

A former Stater well remembered for his performance as Eilert Loverborg in Hedda Gabler a few semesters ago, is Donald Joy, now stationed with the Field Artillery at Camp Roberts.

Former Editor John Thomas is now at Santa Ana with the Army Air corps.

Stuart Bennett, stationed with the Army Air corps in Lincoln, Nebraska, says it's just like home with all the other State fellows stationed in the same camp.

Ed Dunn is studying to be a navigator with the Army Air corps in Nashville, Tennessee.

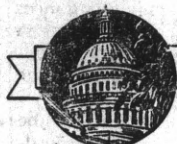

Stater Gene Phillips is now leading yells for the Army Air corps at Nashville, Tennessee. I guess State will have to get along without him for a while.

Camp Barkly, Texas, is the location where George Drolette has set up his camping equipment. He always did like the wide open spaces.

OVER THERE...

Tex Sigerson, Van Galston and Mark Davis now have mailing addresses somewhere in the South Pacific.

Little Dick Chinn is still corresponding with the light of his life, little Miss Betty Wu. He expects to come home soon and give us the low down on the battle of England as he sees it.

CAPITAL to CAMPUS

A. C. P.'s Correspondent Reports from Washington

EDUCATION IN ARMS

WASHINGTON, D. C.—As college administrators wait with crossed fingers, guesses on the date for selection of schools for the Army-Navy college training program have been moved a notch to March 1.

A nine-man board representing Army, Navy and War Manpower is plowing through questionnaires describing facilities of nearly every college in the country. Secretary of War Stimson has warned schools it will do no good to try lobbying for their institutions. Colleges are taking the hint.

Meanwhile, Brig. Gen. Joe N. Dalton, the Army's assistant chief of staff for personnel, has made a point of clarifying the status of men who will eventually enter the specialized training courses.

"The trainee is not a college boy in uniform," says General Dalton. "He's a doughboy in a military unit located at a college. This program is not designed to offer a nice, soft spot for young men who have been inducted into the service."

GOVERNMENT GIRLS

The lot of a white collar girl in Washington is not exactly a happy one. Her folks at home fondly think she's getting a heavy tan from sharing the spotlight with big shots, growing giddy in the whirl along embassy row, and making big money. Those who don't know her think she's primping on taxpayer's money. Congressional growlers picture her as a cross between a reliever and a shiftless squatter.

Actually, she's a hard worker who has a tough time looking trim on $1440. She gets homesick more often than she'll admit. Her morale may not be much—but it's all she has to keep her going.

And now her morale has had three quick lifts. Congress raised her pay by giving her time and a quarter for overtime she's worked unpaid for months. A hospitality committee has finally started working to help her meet service men—an important matter in a town without enough young men to go around. And no less a personage than Mr. FDR has told Congress to its face that government workers are doing jobs that must be done to win the war.

High time, too, say the government girls. Next offensive against the danger of inflation is point rationing of a large group of commodities. College students must obtain War Ration Book Two and learn the ropes of point rationing just as everyone else. And OPA has ideas about how you can help.

SHORTS...

Rosalie Goldstein thinks that she is listed as potentially dangerous in the books of the F. B. I. It all happened last week when she innocently bought a telegraphic receiving set for the purpose of practicing the Morse code for a class at State... Rosalie was happily dot, dot, dashing when suddenly the door bell rang and a mysterious stranger asked her what she was doing, and didn't she know that she wasn't supposed to be sending code messages in war time?

Miss Goldstein explained that her set was not connected, and she was merely practicing and putting in her "two hours per unit" homework... the stranger walked off, seemingly beaten, but his disbelief was evident to heroine Rosie.

Former Stater, Private Joe La Mancusa of the Air corps had the honor of instructing Tommy (the great) Harmon in the Link Trainer department of Gardener Field this summer. Said Joe of his experience... "As an instrument reader of Link Trainers, Harmon is a better football player." Private Joe has since traveled to Miami Beach, Florida, where he is a drill instructor. He has been repeatedly "threatened" by the tough sergeant for marching the boys to this chant... "She LEFT, she LEFT, she had a good home but she LEFT, she LEFT all RIGHT, she LEFT all RIGHT, she had a good home but she LEFT, LEFT, etc."

LETTERS FROM STATERS...

Received a letter from Mrs. H. R. Moore, the former June Andrews. She writes from Miami Beach, Florida: "How is State getting along without its star boarder?... I certainly miss my reserved table in the Co-op."... And from Wichita Falls, Texas, Marcelle Clements Weeks writes: "I'd give anything to get out of 'Deep in the Heart of and see State once more.'"

RAMBLINGS...

John O'Donohue is back at State this semester, after a year's absence... Potential buck private Dave Braga is "resting well" at home while anticipating an Army call... Phil Gotell, former Stater, has been promoted to a sergeant in the Psychology department of the Santa Ana Air Base... Shirley Hooper, who became recently engaged to Corporal Lloyd Frost of the Army Air corps, was seen buying a cook book the size of Webster's Unabridged... and then, spotted at the grill room of the St. Francis, Pat Gillick, eating squab. "This is the only place in town where you can get meat with a maximum wait of only twenty minutes," claims Pat... And then, there is Gladys Brashear, who has been invited by the company officials of Richmond Shipyard No. 1 to attend the launching of the S.S. Josiah P. Crinell... Janet Barney and Bill Brady, former Acapella prexy, who were married at the close of last semester, are both in Corpus Christi.

SET 'EM UP GUS!

After five months on Guadalcanal, a youthful Marine was landed down on the waterfront the other day. Without hesitation he beat his way across The Embarcadero and shot into a beer joint.

Hanging an ankle over the brass rail, he pounded a leathery fist on the bar and commandingly cried, "Everyone up to the bar: when MacPherson drinks, everyone drinks!"

By the time the four unfortunate who had been trampled in the mad rush were picked up and brushed off, the veteran had finished his drink and was fishing in his pocket.

Again he pounded on the bar, and with an equally commanding voice shouted as he threw a quarter on the mahogany, "When MacPherson pays, everyone pays!"

The boys went fishing in the rented skiff. They had wonderful luck all morning. When they had to start home, one boy suggested marking the spot so they could come back the next time to the precisely same place where the fish bit so accommodatingly.

"I got some chalk," said one boy. "Lemme put a cross on the boat to mark the place."

"Don't be a fool," said the other boy. "How can we count on getting this same boat next time?"—Esky.

These four sheep, standing one on top of another, were ten feet deep. His hired man, Paul, was one foot deep because he was always lying down. Everybody fell in the well. The next day Sheriff Smith showed up with a ten foot ladder and a two foot foreclosure. Sheriff Smith drank a foot of Farmer Jones' cider and became eight feet deep. A Short Story

Too Late

"I'm guilty. That's all there is to it."

The desk sergeant peered over the police blotter.

"Oh! So it's you, Harry. Up to your old tricks again, stealing cars."

I stood there waiting—waiting for that puny little cop with the Irish brogue to go into my past record. I'd been charged with snatching cars before. But this time it was different. This time there was a reason. Sure, I know I hadn't stolen a car in three years. I was what they laughingly called a "reformed character." Thanks to Edith, my wife, I had reformed.

It had been hard, especially when you're the type of guy who likes big money. But then—you couldn't go back on a person like Edith, not when she trusted you. She was the type who set you back on your feet and made you feel like doing something decent. She never complained when the going got tough. Instead, she just smiled and took the good with the bad. And most of the time it was bad.

But then—I couldn't explain all that to these guys. They'd never understand. How could they understand that I needed money—needed it for Edith. They'd probably call it an alibi. Poor Edith, she suffered quite a lot these last few weeks. If I could only get the money for an operation—well, about $600 would do it. Snatching a car was one way to do it. The sergeant looked up sharply, and in a toneless voice said, "Well, Harry, we're going to let you go. You see, your wife suddenly became seriously ill, and they had to call a specialist. But I'm afraid he was too late. Someone stole his car."

"That was his car you stole, Harry."

State Athletes Penalized

Members of State athletic teams are finding that the new rule established this term which limits the number of absences in one class during the semester to three severely penalizes them.

On the day on which Staters are scheduled to represent the school on the sports field, their teachers refuse to excuse them from class, and, on occasion, have insisted that they remain in the room.

Under the interpretation which some faculty members have given the "three-cut" rule, many athletes will necessarily flunk this term, although they are perhaps helping the school and themselves more by participating in intercollegiate sports than by building up a perfect attendance record.

And then they will be flunked not because they are incapable of doing the work or even because they did not do it, but only because they missed an hour's worth of a lecturing one summer's day.

If sports are to be continued wholeheartedly, clarification of the absence rule must be forthcoming.

How about some quick action from the student body's representatives, the executive board?

Hal Harden Visits Former Pupils

Special guest at the State-U. S. F. baseball game was genial Lieutenant Hal Harden, last year's coach, nattily attired in his Naval officer's uniform.

Lieutenant Harden, one of the better known and liked instructors on the State campus in past years, is at present in charge of the swimming program at the Naval Pre-Flight School at St. Mary's, teaching the future pilots of America the all-important fundamentals of water safety.

The sun-tanned Hal visited on the Gater bench during the game, renewing acquaintances with his former proteges.

Dolphins Lead Intramural Race; Ready To Oppose Bonecrushers at Noon Hour

With Jack Gilkey, impresario of softball pitching, delivering a one-hit masterpiece, the Dolphins, a well-organized intramural softball team, walloped the so-called Commandos, 16-1, Tuesday to gain the first place honors in the league.

The Dolphins face their acid test today during the noon hour when they meet the Bonecrushers, who have the heavy slug-aggregation, which boasts a lineup including Emil Fanfelle, Terry Kilpatrick, Manny Morena, Jack Joyce, Phil Cali and other sluggers.

The 4 F's, who defeated Bonelli's Hotfoots Wednesday have a strong outfit with Jack Carpenter, the hard-hitting policeman, out to establish a mark for home runs.

Among the freshman gym class teams, the Robots look like the best of the lot, while Bonelli's Hotfoots may recover from their loss to provide strong competition for the other nines.

The championship will be determined by a play-off between the first two teams.

San Jose State to Lose Knowles and Smith Soon

Bill Smith and Thelmo Knowles, stars of the San Jose State track team, expect to leave for the Army very soon, along with others of the Santa Clara Valley school's athletes.

Gaters Lose 2 Close Games to U.S.F. Dons

Sheridan, Ex Don, Leads Gaters, Russell, Keating Losing Hurlers

Although leading in the late innings of both games, State's varsity baseball team lost a pair of close contests to the Dons of U. S. F., 9-7, and 5-4, last Saturday and Tuesday.

Ed Russell hurled for the Gaters in the first game which was played on the Harrison diamond, allowing eight hits, the same amount which Coach Bob Marcus' athletes garnered from the combined pitching of Jack McCarthy and Ed Hanna.

The Dons captured a 3-1 lead in the first inning, in the seventh the Gaters grabbed a 7-5 margin, and the Dons returned to win out in the eighth with four more scores.

SHERIDAN SMASHES HOMER

Neil Sheridan, former U. S. F. star, and now the Gater's leading hitter, connected for the longest hit of the day, a home run into deep center field. Foremost hitter of the day was the Hilltop's Bill Renna, who batted out a four-for-five.

Tuesday's battle in Seal's Stadium found the veteran Dick Murray on the mound for State, while McCarthy again represented U. S. F.

KEATING ENTERS IN SIXTH

For six innings the slants of Murray were unsolvable, and the Gaters led going into the fatal seventh by a 4-0 margin. At this time the bats of Justin Fitzgerald's nine broke loose and before the inning had become a part of the past, Dick had been knocked out of the box, Jim Keating had taken his place, and the Dons were even with the Buchanan Street boys.

In the eighth the winners picked up another tally and maintained this one run lead to triumph for their second victory in the two-game series.

The leading hitter was again Neil Sheridan, who this time collected a three-for-four total. Jim Witt, smooth Gater backstop, was the defensive star of the game, while the entire State infield performed admirably. The score:

S. I. Cagers to Santa Clara

Harvey Christenson and Kevin O'Shea, all-city basketball players from St. Ignatius high school, have announced that they plan to attend the University of Santa Clara upon graduation from the prep ranks. Both are members of the Marine Corps Reserve.

Wendling Favored In Cross Country Next Wednesday

Cross the country for a mile and six-tenths, Wednesday, March 31, at 12 noon, State's hardy marathon runners will be striving to have their names inscribed on the coveted 18-inch gold cup.

Ribbons will be issued to the first ten men who place. In addition, the winning time will be recorded along with the victor's name on the cup. Block S men in track are not eligible.

Aubrey Wendling, winner of this event two years ago, will step up to the starting line a strong favorite to repeat his former triumph. Other place men in previous years include John Apostol, fourth place winner last year, and Pierre Salinger, winner of the tenth place ribbon.

NEW CAMPUS MEET

On the field of the new campus, the track event of the annual interclass meet will be held on Friday, April 9. Records made at this time will stand as the official new campus track records. Field events will be held on the present campus, April 7 and 8. As in the cross country run, all Block S track men are ineligible.

TENTATIVE MEETS

Tentative track meets for this season include University of San Francisco, Santa Rosa J. C., San Francisco J. C., College of the Pacific, an invitational meet at Stanford, and the Fresno West Coast Relays.

State Nine to Play J.C. Rams Tomorrow

State's baseball team meets the Rams of San Francisco Junior College nine tomorrow on the diamond at Harrison playground. Jim Keating is slated to hurl for the Gaters, while the remainder of the lineup is expected to be the same as the one which started the U. S. F. game Tuesday.

Tennismen Finally Open Season; Break Even in Practice Match

By BASIL PRITCHARD

Old Sol finally came through for State's varsity netmen. In a practice match Tuesday the Farmersmen split a six-match affair with a surprisingly strong St. Ignatius squad led by Earl Rosenthal, present junior city champion. Rosenthal displayed a finesse that was too much for Stater Ed Murray, who temporarily held down the number one spot for the Gaters.

Playing in number two position (just for a day), your correspondent (sob) was plastered with everything except a bouquet of lilies, and went down, 6-0, 6-0, before S. I.'s Goheen, who should not be turned loose on an unsuspecting public. In the third and last singles match Stater Ted Ellsworth played a fascinating three-set match with S. I.'s Tom Fagin that was close all the way. Ted lost, but before it was all over, Fagin knew he had been in a tennis game, and we don't mean perhaps.

COLEMAN, SCHWAB WIN

On the brighter side, State's doubles teams proved too much for the Wildcats. Topmen Schwab and Coleman defeated Rosenthal and Goheen, 1-6, 6-4, 7-5, in a thriller that had everyone guessing all the way.

From that time on it was safely State's match all the way. In number two doubles Stater's La Salle and Paizis pulled through in beautiful style, defeating Sullivan and Scioroni, 6-2, 3-6, 6-4, while Statermen Murray and Bill Campbell defeated Wildcats Fagin and Graham, 6-3, 9-11.

STATE vs. J. C. TODAY

At San Francisco Junior College this afternoon your team meets the Rams in a match that we predict will convince our friendly neighbors that tennis is really a game to be played by four year colleges. The match will be run off at the Junior College, and will definitely be worth the seeing.

Word from the varsity tennis head office reveals that Coach Dan Farmer is slightly less than pleased at the results of Tuesday's encounter with St. Ignatius, and many agents report that State's racqueteers are due for two matches a week for the next month in order to iron out (sob) some rough spots before starting conference play.

at all, and went around from one class to another like a mechanical robot, with no extra-curricular activities to liven up dull days.

This would be indeed a sad state of affairs, and yet when YOU don't buy a student body card you are taking money away from all these student activities. If everyone in the student body refused to buy a card this would be a college like the one described above.

Enough said!

PLEBECITE

On Monday, the student poll of public opinion will be distributed to the students of S. F. State so that the executive board can know what the students think. There has been much discussion on some recent legislation enacted, which the ex board would like to poll you on.

It is hoped that the fate of this poll will not be the same as many polls that have preceded it—the papers lying in the waste basket because of lackadaisical "don't give a damn" attitude that has been prevalent on this campus for so long.

If you want to grouse about something, this is the time.

California Youth Rally Behind Move For 18-Year-Old Suffrage

March 23, 1943.

Dear Editor:

We of the International Relations Club wish to make known our position on the issue of lowering the voting age to eighteen. For our argument we submit the following:

(1) Eighteen year olds are being inducted into the armed services. Why should they not be given a hand in the government of the country which they are so willing to defend?

(2) Psychological tests have shown that the chronological age of a person is not a valid enough factor in the determination of his mental maturity.

(3) Educational advantages available to 18 year olds are much greater and significant than they were in the past.

Most of the faculty professors with whom we have spoken have stated that they have great confidence in the ability of most 18 year olds to take an intelligent stand on current issues.

We should like to have the opinion of the student body on this vital subject. If they are in favor of lowering the voting age, let us make ourselves heard.

Sincerely yours,

JANE RENSTROM, Secretary.

What's Doing Among Student Organizations

★ DELTA SIGMA NU

Rush tea time came to State yesterday, March 11, when Delta Sigma Nu greeted prospective sorority sisters amid the gay colors of the Mexican theme.

"We had more applications for membership this year than at any other time," said Marjorie Webster, president of the sorority.

A progressive dinner will be given the pledges on St. Patrick's day, according to Gail Mayfield, vice president and chairman of the Tea. Pat Gillick was in charge of decorations.

★ Alpha Pi Nu

Acquainting the members with different hospitals and aiding them in their choice of a good accredited school of nursing is one of the functions of Alpha Pi Nu this semester, according to Elnora Wilcox, president of the organization.

In carrying this plan out, the members visited St. Joseph's Hospital on Wednesday, March 24, at 4 p. m. They toured the building and looked over the equipment.

Alpha Pi Nu is having an April fools dinner, April 1, at Monaco's.

★ Bib 'n' Tucker

Honoring their new pledges, Bib 'n' Tucker held their semi-annual initiation tea at the Palace Hotel Saturday, March 20. Many members attended and, according to members of the club, the affair was a huge success.

New pledges were Jean Cantwell, Laura Carra, Virginia Casey, Georgianne Goldsmith, Mary Heaney, Hazel Kelly, Edith Merrick, Alice Pratt and Virginia Van De Water.

This semester's officers are the following: Vivian Silva, president; Pat Thomas, vice-president; Joan Herrick, corresponding secretary; Beverly Forney, recording secretary; Pat Lundberg, treasurer; Frances Neece, historian.

★ A. W. S.

San Francisco State's first service flag of World War II will be purchased very soon, it was announced today by Caroline Nahman, chairman of the committee which is working in cooperation with a faculty group.

The flag will be a regulation silk service flag with the number of servicemen from State appearing below a star. An honor roll is also being planned in conjunction with this project, both of which are being sponsored by the A. W. S.

★ Quotable Quotes

President John W. Nason of Swarthmore College, calling for corrective measures in the education system, said recently:

"We no longer speak a common language as we no longer have a common intellectual background. Putting it another way, our modern education suffers from intellectual malnutrition. The scientists have been the greatest specialists, and . . . there is probably no other group quite so narrow in its interests. Our system is out of balance, and if we would restore it to equilibrium we must give more attention to the social and the human problems which we face."

With the movement gathering momentum like a snowball rolling down hill, proponents of 18-year-old suffrage look forward to the acid test for their movement on April 8, when the California legislature will act upon the bill which has been placed before them.

With the youth of California rallying to the cause, the students of San Francisco State College have also taken an active part in the attempt to secure the vote for 18-year-olds.

The movement to put State behind the 18-year-old suffrage bill originated in the Internal Relations Club, and culminated Monday when the student executive board passed a resolution putting the students of San Francisco State behind the assembly measure.

Students from all over the State of California will attend the meeting of the legislature on April 8, when action will be taken on the measure. Representing the college will be Pierre Salinger, with Myra Warren, president of the International Relations Club, and Jean Lee also planning to attend the epochal meeting.

Sunday afternoon William Rosenthal, Los Angeles assemblyman, will address a group of delegates from youth organizations in the Bay area on the subject of this bill, which he proposed. Representatives of the University of California, San Jose State and S. F. State will be at the meeting.

Gater readers are urged to give their opinions on this subject by filling out the ballot found in the story and returning it to P. O. Box 119. Results of this ballot will be used in forming an idea of how the members of the student body feel in regard to this vital question of votes for 18-year-olds.

After reading the above story on the 18-year-old vote bill, I, a student of San Francisco State College, wish to express the following opinion:

— in favor.
— not in favor.
— undecided.

This statement will be used only in forming an estimate of student opinion on this matter.

★ MUSIC FED.

Elections for the office of president and vice president of the Music Federation will be held this coming Monday, March 29, at the Federation office.

The A Cappella Choir, under the direction of Mr. Freeburg, is going to sing at the USO on Sunday, March 28. After giving forth in song, the sailors and soldiers will have an opportunity to sing along with them. This will be followed by the feminine part of the choir dancing with the service men.

Paul Scholten moved, Rita Balbi seconded, that Student Body elections be held on May 14. Motion passed, 5 to 4.

Meeting adjourned at 5:30 p. m.

TINA ARIANI, Secretary.

Phi Epsilon Mu Gains Four New Pledges

Under the guidance of Phil Cali, baseball commissioner, Phi Epsilon Mu is running the annual intramural softball league this term. This intramural series is the most interesting and the most competitive of the year's various leagues, probably because so many men are good baseball players.

The new pledges for this semester are Dick Murray, Manuel Morena, Jim Witt, Louis Vasquez. At this pledge meeting, which was held Tuesday night, March 23, plans for the annual spring picnic were formulated. Phi Epsilon Mu is doing much in keeping the school spirit and morale running high, and with the lack of men that is a tough job.

The "Old Oaken Bucket" for Dickenson and Gettysburg colleges vie on the football field is in reality a mahogany bucket, and only a few years old.
